

Naming of Overture Advocates and Payment of Overture Advocate Expenses

National Capital Presbytery will pay travel expenses, to include transportation, three nights and two days lodging, and reasonable meal and incidental expenses, for one advocate for each overture that originates in National Capital Presbytery. Travel expenses for overture advocates for overtures with which National Capital Presbytery concurs must be borne by the advocate or their congregation. Overtures with which National Capital Presbytery concurs, but for which it modifies the rationale, are not considered as having originated in National Capital Presbytery for this purpose. The Chairperson of the Bills & Overtures Committee, the General Presbyter, and the Stated Clerk are delegated authority to name the advocates for all overtures that National Capital Presbytery originates or with which it concurs. (Approved by Leadership Council – February 13, 2016)
