

Insides and Outsides

Many of our congregations have taken advantage of the Congregational Assessment Tool by Holy Cow! This internal assessment has helped over half our congregations to get a statistically sound view at the 'insides' of their congregations. From assessing worship and music to educational offerings, the CAT has allowed leadership in the congregation to get a good view of how a congregation perceives itself.

What tools are available for congregations that want to look at their 'outsides'? Our Presbytery offers demographic studies through MissionInsite. MissionInsite empowers our congregations with demographic tools that help church leadership to visualize and cultivate information about their neighboring communities. Knowing the make-up of the community outside the walls can help a congregation to discover the needs of the external community to reach out in evangelism and mission.

A MissionInsite report is quick and easy to generate. Geoff McLean (pastor@cpcfairfax.org) provides church contacts with the appropriate links to access the information. Further assistance in interpreting the data can also be provided by Karen (kchamis@thepresbytery.org) who can assist with basic analysis of the results.

Access to MissionInsite is made available through Unified Mission Giving!
