

John Calvin Presbyterian Church taking the Next Step!

It may not look like much now, but the attached photo is the Rev. Casey FitzGerald's new office at John Calvin Presbyterian Church. Last year, JCPC became a Next Step grant recipient which will allow the congregation to explore a new staffing structure and new ministry. Both Casey and Lisa Rzepka (JCPC's current pastor) will be serving the church three-quarter time as the "Pastor for Missional Development, and "Pastor of Missional Life" respectively. Casey's work will be connecting with folks "unchurched and de-churched" whereas Lisa will be equipping the saints for ministry who are already attending JCPC. It's a new and exciting model for ministry... one that will allow John Calvin church to take the Next Step in becoming more engaged with the community!

The Next Step Grant is offered to vital congregations that have a vision for how to move from good to great. More information about the program can be found at www.ncptransforms.org Churches that are currently receiving Next Step Grants include Covenant (Manassas), Westminster (DC), Potomac, Oaklands, Calvary and John Calvin!
