This past April, several members of National Capital Presbytery received training through the International Coaching Federation (ICF), joining those who received the training last year. This bench of trained Coaches is ready to work with individuals and groups in whatever ways might be helpful for the ministry of your congregation.

The ICF provides a rigorous curriculum, including hours of classwork teamed with practicums and hands-on experience. To be certified, Coaches need to demonstrate knowledge as well as a hundred hours of experience. That's where you come in! Many of our Coaches received financial assistance from the Presbytery through Unified Mission Giving which was in exchange for donating hours. If you're interested in helping them (and helping yourself!) please go to www.ncptransforms.org and check out the tab marked Coaching. There you'll find several of our available folks - all you need to do is reach out to them to schedule an appointment.

The Transformation Team of the Presbytery is always seeking new ways of supporting and encouraging our leaders. We're currently working with the Spiritual Formation Team of the Presbytery to provide one of our congregations with a Christian Education consultant who is working in tandem with a Coach. The hope is that this dynamic duo will provide both the content and the structure needed to assist this congregation as they revamp their education programming. What would YOU like coaching on?
